Welcome to Advertising with The Beacon!

Most newspapers would use this space to tell you they've been in business for more than 150 years. They might tell you about the boxes of lead type reporters gnaw on while eating their baloney sandwich lunches in their newsrooms before trudging downtown to keep their eyes on ne'er-do-wells and goings-on at town hall.

Well, here at The Beacon, we've served in such newspaper offices, and we're here to tell you that our newspaper is committed to the best days ahead for our communities in Long Island's five East End towns, not to some trite notion of days long past. We're not your father's newspaper.

For the past nine years, we've devoted our resources to putting together the most forward-thinking web-based news source on the East End, covering environmental issues, controversies at town halls, social movements, fresh local businesses, arts, music, poetry and live theater, and the importance of the Peconic Estuary to this unique community.

The Beacon in print is a monthly publication, launched in April of 2017, which focuses our reporters' efforts on big-picture stories, giving readers the context and depth that is lacking in the 24-hour news cycle. Our online news coverage continues to be fresh and fully up-to-date.

We are currently distributing 3,000 copies of The Beacon each month on more than 80 newsstands throughout the East End, as well as at hotels and travel hubs throughout the region. We are one of the few local newspapers that covers both the North and South forks, and by advertising with us, you will reach a unique and diverse demographic of literate, affluent and inquisitive readers throughout the East End. We think our print edition has distinct benefits for advertisers – when you advertise with us, your ad will remain on newsstands for the full month, not for just the week it would have run in a weekly newspaper. We're also a broadsheet, just about the widest format newspaper you will find, which gives your ad plenty of space to shine. And, most importantly, our display advertising rates are the best around.

Since we launched our website in June of 2013, it has been visited more than a million times by more than 250,000 people, with a growing fan base that turns to us for in-depth, contextualized stories about the communities they know and love. The 600+ subscribers to our weekly Week in Review email newsletter are fiercely loyal to The Beacon. And we're growing, with our Peconic Bathtub and Peconic Dish websites highlighting the seas between the twin forks and the fresh local food to be found here. We hope you'll join us as we work to make The Beacon the most trusted news source on the East End of Long Island.
